

Adhesive lubricant HHS® 6000 PLUS

High-performance lubricating oil for extreme speeds

Universal, synthetic high-performance lubricating oil with outstanding lubricating properties thanks to the addition of boron nitride.

Excellent creep behaviour and effective surface protection

The low viscosity enables extremely free movement and friction reduction even at extremely high speeds. Excellent creep properties provide deep lubrication and protection. Effective surface protection against wear and corrosion is produced.

Reliable wear protection

The boron nitride allows a wide temperature range and long-lasting lubricating effect. If the oil lubrication breaks off at higher temperatures (above 180°C), the boron nitride takes over the lubrication up to 1000°C (dry lubrication).

Free of microplastics

Free of silicone, resin, acid and n-hexane

Contents	400 ml
Chemical basis	Synthetic oil
Oil basis	Synthetic
Colour	Yellowish
Min./max. temperature conditions	-40 to 180 °C
Max. temperature resistance	1000 °C
Shelf life from production	24 Month

Art. no. 0893 106 202

P. Qty.: 1 / 12

Details/Application

For professional use with smallest tolerances, precision parts or even with high temperature loads, such as bearings, chains, joints, springs, sliding rails or Bowden cables.

Instructions

Shake can well before use. Thoroughly pre-clean the parts to be treated. Then spray onto the cleaned surface.
